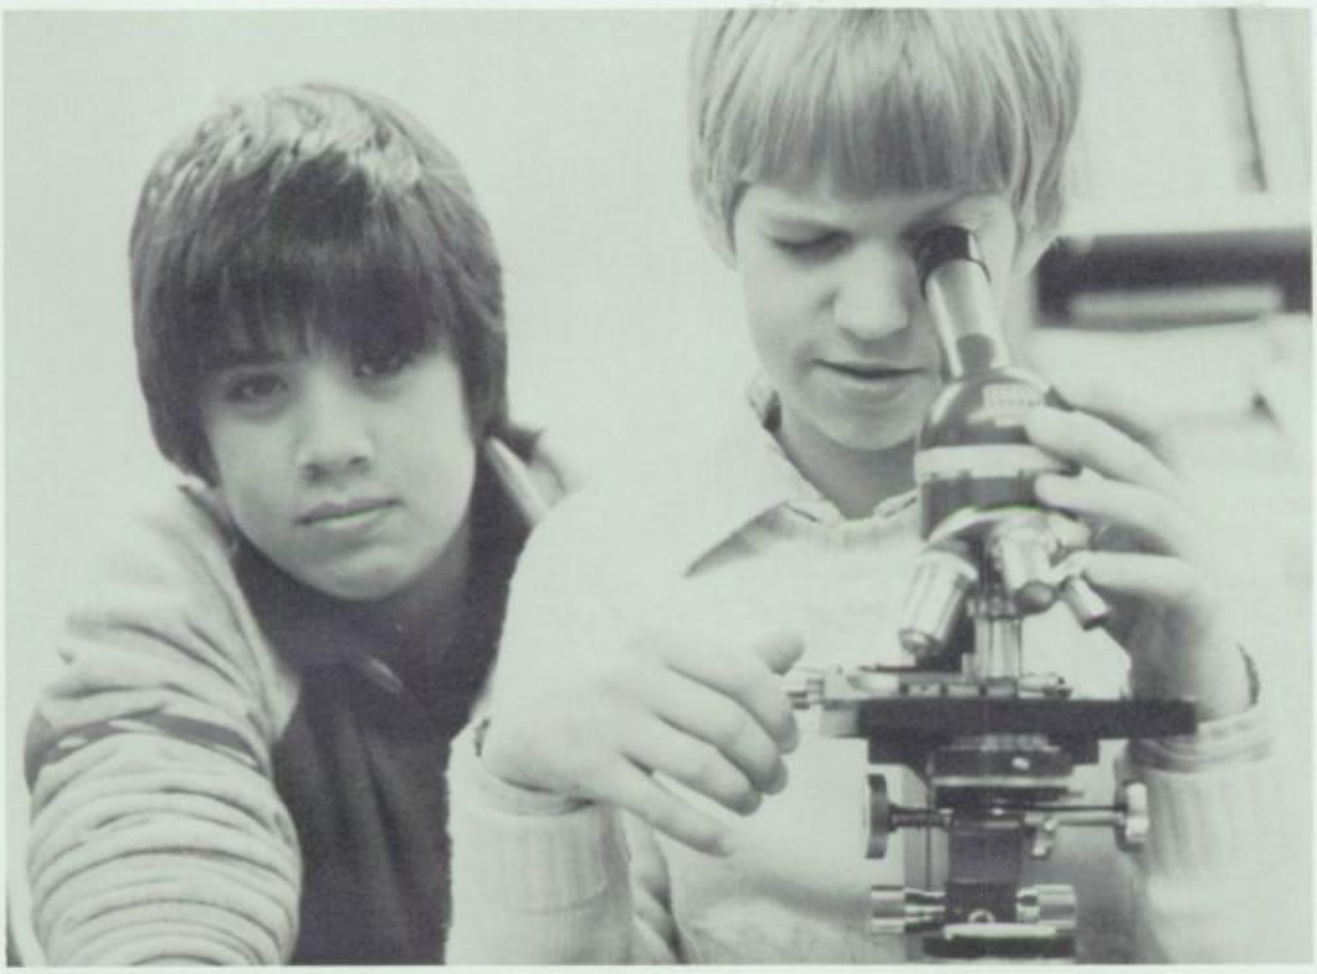
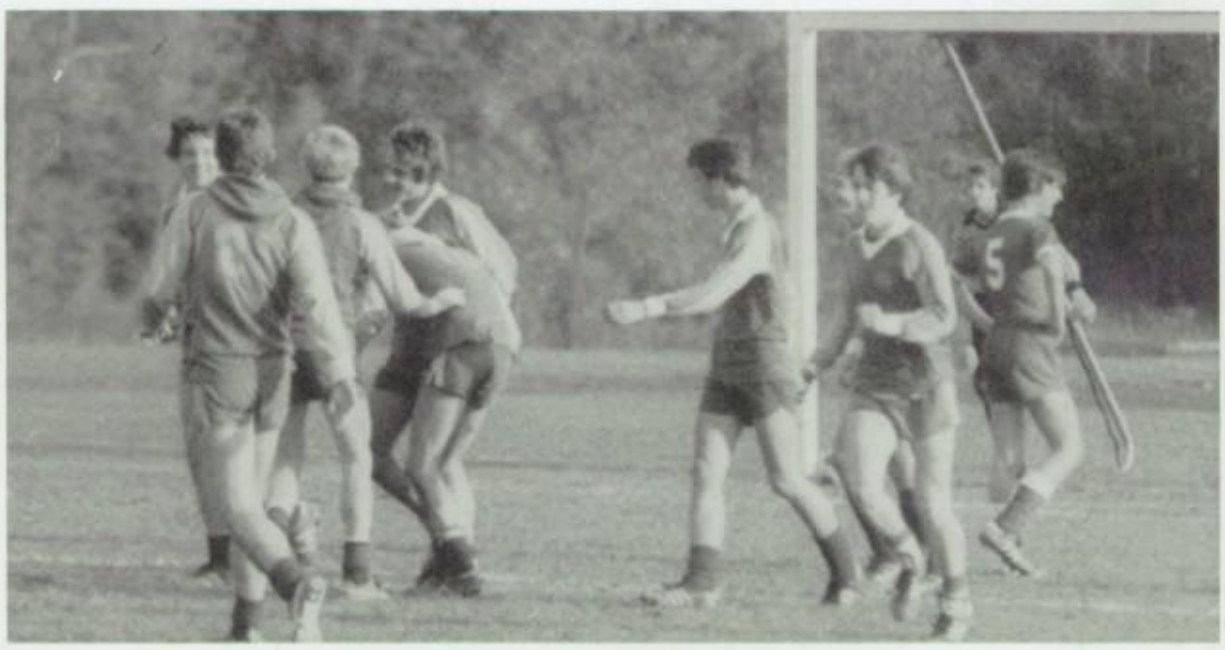
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS 176

Many, many years ago, before "Prep" fashion was a fad, young people on the West Side of Cleveland had nothing to do. They wandered aimlessly throughout North Ridgeville looking for something, their "Holy Grail," so to speak. Then in 1963, Lake Ridge Academy was founded. This was a step in the right direction, but there were still bugs to be worked out.



The school developed a curriculum based on the classics. But around the time of Watergate people began asking "Are we not missing something?" . . .

The discipline of the school began to develop a consistency and included the standard "sound mind and body" tradition which would eventually become second nature.



At last, a school developed that you really had to work at—or at least pretend to. Lake Ridge Academy, as we know it, had arrived.

If you can keep your head when life's temptations
Are bidding you to heed their beck and call,
If you can dream and have high expectations
Yet not mind working hard to win it all . . .

If you can take advice from those who love you,
Yet learn to make decisions for yourself,
If you can cheer as others pass above you,
And put your disappointments on the shelf . . .

If you can smile when odds are all against you,
Determined to try even harder still,
If, when your foes have practically convinced you
"You can't,"-you buckle down and say,"I Will" . . .

If you can be unselfish and forgiving,
And give thanks for the blessing you've received,
If you can face the challenges of living
And, choosing right from wrong, are not deceived . . .

If you can put your heart into attaining
The goal you seek, and do your best each day
Yet, without hesitating or complaining,
Help others gladly as you go your way . . .

If you can live the Golden Rule each minute,
And shape your course according to God's plan,
Yours is the World and everything that's in it
And, what is more—you'll really be a man!

On the road of experience I'm trying to find my own way
Sometimes I wish that I could fly away.
When I think that I'm moving, suddenly things stand still I'm afraid 'cause I think they always will.
And I'm looking for space, and to find out who I am,
And I'm looking to know and understand.
It's a sweet, sweet dream.
Sometimes I'm almost there, sometimes I fly like an eagle and sometimes I'm deep in despair.

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition, to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. The Wall
I'm woven in a fantasy
I can't believe the things I see the path that I have chosen now has led me to a wall
And with each passing day
I feel a little more like something
dear was lost
It rises now before me
A dark and silent barrier between
And I am, and all that I would ever want to be
It's just a travesty, towering, marking off the boundaries my spirit would erase

To pass beyond is what I seek
I fear that I may be too weak
And those of you who've seen it through
To glimpse the other side
The promising land is waiting Like a maiden that is soon to be a bride
The moment is a masterpiece
The weight of indecision's in the air standing there
Symbol and the sum of all that's me
It's just a travesty, towering Blocking out the light and blinding me
I want to see

Gold and diamonds cast a spell
It's not for me I know it well
The riches that I seek, are waiting on the other side
There's more than I can measure
In the treasures of the love that I can find
And though it's always been with me
I must tear down the wall and let it be
All I am, and all that I was ever meant to be
In harmony, shining true
smiling back at all who want to cross
There is no loss

Life is a mixture of sunshine and rain, Laughter and pleasure, tear-drops and pain, All days can't be bright, but it's certainly true, There was never a cloud the sun didn't shine through - So just keep on smiling whatever betide you, Secure in the knowledge God is always beside you, And you'll find when you smile your day will be brighter And all of your burdens will seem so much lighter - For each time you smile you will find it is true Somebody, somewhere will smile back at you, And nothing on earth can make life more worthwhile Than the sunshine and warmth of a beautiful smile.

The child is the father of the man
And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each in natural piety

There was a time when meadows grove and stream
The earth and every common sight
To me did seem
Apparelled in celestial light
The glory and the Freshness of a dream
It is not now as it hath been of yore
Turn where so'er I may
By night or day
the things which I have seen
I now see no more.

But now I am six, I'm
